Nebo School District has recently changed the curriculum for its sexuality health unit from Abstinence-Only to Abstinence-Plus. The Abstinence-Plus curriculum, which will include information on birth control and contraception methods, will be implemented as an opt-in unit. Students will not receive the Abstinence-Plus instruction unless their parents sign the opt-in form. In addition, parents may choose what level of instruction their children will receive. Parents may 1) Opt in for all instruction; 2) Opt in for all instruction except a particular section; 3) Request to review the materials; 4) Not opt in to any part of the human sexuality unit.

Parents who would like to be more informed or express their feelings about this issue can get involved in the following ways:
1. Attend the Curriculum department’s presentation to the Nebo School Board on October 7, at the District Offices (350 S Main Spanish Fork), at approximately 4:30 (the timing is approximate because the meeting begins at 3:00, and other presentations will be made prior to this one).

2. Attend the regular Nebo School Board meeting on October 7, beginning at 6:00pm, also at the District Offices. There will not be an open forum at this meeting, but those who would like to address the board can sign up to do so by calling Nebo School District at 801 354 7400, or by signing up online.

3. Call Nebo School District curriculum employees John Allan or Nedra Call at 801-354-7400.
